

Better Together: Deep-Ocean Project Lightning Introductions

Are you part of a deep-ocean research project? DOSI and DOOS are teaming up to bring the deep-ocean community closer together, and we need your help!

We are seeking to expand our online video archive of the amazing groups and networks either doing research in the deep sea or working on outreach initiatives to connect end users to deep-sea research. To that end, we would like to invite each group/network to share a 90-second “lightning talk” introduction to your work. These talks will be collected on the DOOS YouTube channel and the DOSI website so that all of us have a place to go to browse the amazing opportunities for collaboration in the deep-ocean field. Talks will also be featured in the Deep-Sea Round-Up.

If you would like to share a video about your work with the community, we recommend including the following points:

1. Briefly describe the focus of your group/network
2. Highlight one challenge in the deep sea your group/network is addressing
3. How others who wish to contribute can get involved

After recording your lightning introduction, please send the video to Leslie Smith at leslie.smith@youroceanconsulting.com for sharing. You can also contact Leslie with any questions.

We are looking forward to supporting all your incredible work!

Sincerely,

DOOS and DOSI Executive Teams
